To those who enjoy politics, there is a real three-ring circus on now.

To the various disappointed candidates for State House jobs: where there's life there's hope.

It looked like rain this morning, or as near fike rain as our memory recalls. But that was all.

If Governor Haskell of Oklahoma gets out of this trouble, we shall vote him a mighty good wiggler.

We shall naturally expect that Barre's new musicians' union will always have harmony. What else could you expect?

With a half-milion bequest for a commerce and industry course, Tufts college becomes also commercialized, like several other New England colleges.

We venture the guess that the homecoming of Mildred Brewster didn't fill the Kansas City Star, and he moves the breasts of the state asylum officials with anything akin to joy.
